

A conference on
Socrates, the Socratics, and the Socratic tradition

SOCRATICA V

July 11-14,
2022

Rice University
Houston, TX

Triennial conference of the International Society for Socratic Studies

The International Society for Socratic Studies promotes Socratic studies throughout the world. We are devoted to Socratic studies in all its aspects including reception, drawing on the full range of ancient sources and authors, and using a variety of approaches and methods.

Call for abstracts

We welcome high-quality abstracts on any topic that falls within our scope.

Length

Papers should be designed for a 20-minute presentation. The abstract should be written in any two of the Society's six official languages: English, French, German, Italian, Spanish, and Portuguese. Each abstract should be about 900-1200 words long. (Thus 1800-2400 for both abstracts). Submit both abstracts in one file to socrates5@rice.edu. To facilitate blind review, please remove all identifying information from the file. Put identifying information in the body of the email containing the abstracts: name, institution, title, email address.

Due date

All abstracts must be received by November 30, 2021. Decisions will come in January 2022.

socratessociety@rice.edu | socratessociety.rice.edu

